Re: JMU Miller Hall

Dear Tony,

Congratulations on an outstanding job on the renovation of Miller Hall for James Madison University. I know that you have to be very pleased with the strong work ethic displayed by your company during the renovation of the newest academic building in the bluestone campus area. Not only did Nielsen Builders do the renovation project in 2006-2007, but Nielsen also built the original building in 1972-1974. We have all benefited from your organization's expertise and dedication to "both" projects. Thanks to Nielsen's attention to details and creative problem-solving, this has been an exciting and enjoyable project that kept up with a demanding schedule. We here at the University have been impressed and wish you well with our other projects on campus.

Best wishes for happiness and continued success to all of you at Nielsen's.

Respectfully yours,

Glenn R. Wayland
Capital Outlay Project Manager
